TO THE POLLS!

Let every Union man be at the Polls on the
SECOND TUESDAY IN OCTOBER.

No Election ever transpired that was of such vital importance to the AMERICAN PEOPLE,
as the present. The Johnson men aver that there will be ANOTHER BLOODY WAR
if we do not give them the GOVERNMENT.

We think a Republican success will prevent a war.

M. L. BUNDY.
That our readers may vote intelligently for Congress, it is necessary that the late candidate, whose name stands at the head of this paper, be placed correctly before the people.

We start out by saying, that in days that have passed and gone, Mr. Bundy was a Conservative Republican. His son-in-law, Mr.
Chamberlain, was the representative from Henry county in the State Legislature. Mr. Bundy came out against him when he was a candidate for re-nomination. We can not give the exact vote of Henry county for these two men, but our recollection is that Chamberlain received 2,000, and Bundy, 600. We, of course, are willing to be corrected if not right.

Mr. Bundy became disgusted with his party, and went off with the Johnson men to the Philadelphia Convention. He united there with the rebels of the South and the Copperheads of the North and formed a party; but for the purpose of getting Republican votes, he is talking like all deserters of party—that he is still a Republican.

Mr. Bundy accepted a nomination by a Copperhead caucus at Indianapolis from this district. We can not speak for other counties of the district, but we make the assertion that there was no one from this county in that caucus that ever belonged to the Republican party.
Those present from this county, as we understand, were Miles Hunt, John Clapp, Gid. Shaw, Ben. Shaw, Joseph Edgar, and probably some others.

Mr. Bundy was not a Major in the army at all; he was simply a paymaster at Indianapolis, with the pay of a Major. If he ever saw a rebel it was after he was captured and brought to Indianapolis. He had a good time while the disease was subject to hardships, disease and death. He has made a pile of money, which has enabled him to make his wife wealthy. We do not know where he got the money, but he has made enough money to do without office for a while.

It is true, Mr. Bundy has a right to be a candidate for Congress, but he has no right to get votes by fraud—in deceiving the people as to what party he belongs to, and who put him on the track. He dare not deny, under oath, that the Democrats put him on the track. We dare him to do it.

A RALLY.
The Democrats are to have a grand rally on next Saturday. Mr. Bundy, their candidate for Congress, is to be here to address them. The Democratic Central Committee have sent out large posters to that effect. Mr. Bundy is called an independent candidate in order to catch Republican votes; but notwithstanding he is the Democratic Copperhead candidate for Congress, for every one of that class will vote for him because he has lowered his standard of Unionism sufficiently to entice him to their confidence. They will vote for him because he will, if elected, favor the immediate admission of the rebel States without any guarantee for their future loyalty.
Without this kind of a secret understanding, he could not get a single vote from the party that is now supporting him.

ANSWERED.
Why, are ten States, the people, the Senate and the Representatives thereof out of the Union? Ask radicals.—Indianapolis Herald.
1st. Because the people are rebels.
2d. Because they elect rebels who can not take the oath required.
3. They are unwilling to give guarantees for their future loyalty.
4th. Their laws are not sufficiently Republican to protect the rights of all their citizens.
5th. It is the duty of Congress to guarantee a Republican Government to the people of each State.
6th. President Johnson stands in the way of the restoration, as does the Indianapolis Herald and Northern Democrats.
7th. The ratification of the Constitutional Amendment will bring them all in, but they refuse to accept.
We trust the Herald will now give the answers of a Radical to his patrons.

A CHEAT.
The Democrats are parading Mr.
Bundy before the people as a soldier.
We desire to say that Mr. Bundy never was a soldier. He never heard a rebel gun, and never saw a rebel until after he had surrendered and was brought North. He is called Major, but he was simply a paymaster, stationed at Indianapolis, with the pay of Major.
The boys in blue all understand what a paymaster is. He is to the army what Judas Iscariot was to the Apostles. Judas carried the bag, and so does the paymaster.
Now we do not pretend to say that all paymasters were thieves, but by some means they had a nice way of getting rich.

We ask soldiers not to be deceived in Mr. Bundy; he is no soldier, and never was. He is now made the candidate for the Democracy because they were so insolvent in principle that the people would not trust them; and as the brave soldiers would not sell out, they, as a last resort, take a paymaster and run him in order to cheat the people.

READ YOUR TICKETS.
Before voting be sure and read your ticket, as there will be an effort to get votes for Bundy by fraud. We say, vote no ticket that has Bundy's name on, as his name is on a Republican ticket. Whenever you find it on, you may be sure it is a Democratic ticket or a bogus one to deceive the people.
We say, read your ticket before voting.

DO NOT TRADE VOTES.
There will be an effort made by Democrats to trade votes with Republicans; if Republicans will vote for Bundy, they (the Democrats) will vote for some Republican.
We say, vote for no man who is not a Republican candidate, nominated by that party. There is no safety in voting for renegades who have sold themselves to the enemy.

EFFECTS OF SUPPORTING "MY POLICY."

Before taking the President's policy, I was high minded and respected. I never apologized for treason. I said treason must be made odious and traitors must be punished; that in reconstructing a big minded man, I can now apologize for treason and charge the war on the abolitionists. I know it is false, but I will lose my office if I do not do so. Woe!
woe! woe is me!

After taking the President's policy, my principles, that I regarded as my sacred jewels, were all thrown away. I sold them all when they offered a little office. I am no longer a big minded man. I can now apolo-
war on the abolitionists. I know it is false,
but I will lose my office if I do
not do so. Woe!
woe! woe is me!

PAY UP.
We would again remind those who subscribed to the Graded School Building to pay up, as the Trustee can not build a house of the present magnitude without money. The building is now progressing finely. Mr. Kizer tells us that he has not only paid out all the money he has collected, but about $1000 of his own money. We trust therefore that all who subscribed will walk up and pay.

PUBLIC SPEAKING.
General T. M. Brown and Colonel A. J. Neff, will speak at Bradley's Hall on next Monday evening according to the appointment of the Central Committee. Let every body come out as it is the last meeting before the election.

We learned from a gentleman who lives in Stony Creek Township, that there is but one "my policy" man in that township that can read. He ought to swing round the circle. Will Moses please to send him a copy of the Constitution.

We trust our Fairview, Ridgeville and Deerfield friends will recollect the Union meetings advertised in the Journal, for these places, next Friday, Saturday and Monday. Let there be a big turn out at each one of these places as these will be the last before the election.

GEN. T. M. BROWN delivered a speech in the Court-room in this place on Friday evening last, in reply to one made by Col. Bickel, of Richmond, a few evenings previous, and it is scarcely necessary for us to say that the General's address was a most able and eluquent discourse. It was indeed a masterly effort, in which he critically reviewed the political issues of the day, taking strong ground in favor of the plan of reconstruction advocated by Congress. We have not the time nor the space in this issue to give more than a hurried notice of the speech, and indeed had we the time, we feel ourselves unequal to the task of doing the General that justice which the real merits of his speech demands. Suffice it, then, that he skillfully dissected, atom by atom, the speech of Col. Bickel, and carefully and dispassionately unraveled the fallacious arguments of that gentleman, unfolding and exposing the errors enunciated by him respecting the plan of reconstruction, and completely overthrew his shallow defense of President Johnson.

The room was densely crowded, and the General's discourse was conducted throughout in that gentlemanly, courteous and convincing manner so characteristic of him.

THE SOUTHERN LOYALISTS.—According to previous announcement, hundreds of our citizens, both of the town and country, flocked to the Courtroom at noon on Saturday last, to listen to the addresses of Judge Bingham and Mr. Hunnicutt, two of the Southern delegates to the recent Southern Loyalists' Convention at Philadelphia. The room was crowded to its utmost capacity, while many were unable to gain admission. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed. Judge Bingham, of Alabama, was the first to address the meeting, which he did in a very able and eloquent manner, though laboring under the disadvantages of ill health and an imperfect voice. He spoke for about one hour, and was listened to with much interest and attention. Mr. Hunnicutt, of Virginia, followed him in a speech, every word of which had a telling effect upon the vast assembly. His remarks were to the point, and were delivered with a force and feeling that convinced the people of the speaker's honesty and sincerity. He drew a vivid picture of the present feeling and condition in the Southern States; ventilated "My Policy" in beautiful style, and charged President Johnson, without stint or reserve, with being directly responsible for all the wrongs and misdeeds that are being perpetrated in the South.
His remarks were frequently interrupted by thunders of applause, showing conclusively that the feelings and sympathies of the people were with him.
They left here on the evening train, for Michigan City, at which place they were to speak on Monday last.

Deserters and Draft Sneaks No Right to Vote.

Attention is called to the following extract from the Laws of the United States, on the subject of deserters and draft sneaks. It will be found in the statutes at large of the United States, passed at the 24 Session of the 28th Congress, Page 490, Chapter 79, Section 21. Let it be carefully read:
"SEC. 21. And be it further enacted, That, in addition to the other lawful penalties of the crime of desertion from the military or naval service, all persons who have deserted from the military or naval service of the United States, who shall not return to said service, or report themselves to a provisional marshal within sixty days after the proclamation hereinafter mentioned, shall be deemed and taken to have voluntarily relinquished and forfeited their rights of citizenship and their right to become citizens; and such deserters shall be forever incapable of holding any office of trust or profit under the United States, or of exercising any rights of citizens thereof; and all persons who shall hereafter desert the military or naval service, and all persons, who, being duly enrolled, shall depart the jurisdiction of the district in which he is enrolled, or go beyond the limits of the United States, with intent to avoid any draft into the military or naval service, duly ordered, shall be liable to the penalties of this section."

Let loyal men everywhere spot the rascals when they undertake, as they will do, to vote the Copperhead ticket at the ensuing election.

CORRESPONDENCE.

School Organization.
The impression made upon the pupils the first day of school by the teacher, determines, in a great measure, the future success of the term. As no young man or young woman engaged in the profession can afford to fail, a knowledge of how to proceed at this critical period will be very valuable. The organization of a school should be entered upon with well matured plans. The teacher should seek such information as will enable him to determine the probable number of classes, kinds, and grade of advancement; text book used, and their uniformity in the school. The success of the former teacher, his methods, plans and regulations, constitute an important item. All well regulated plans laid out by one teacher should be carried forward by his successor; practical methods of conducting the various exercises should not be materially modified, and wholesome regulations should be retained. This course will obviate the constant change of manner consequent upon a rotation of teachers. One-fourth of the time and efficiency of our common schools is lost in needless changes made by successive teachers.

The school-house should receive a visit before opening, be swept, seats properly arranged, maps neatly and tastefully suspended on the walls, globes and tablets in their proper places; books or pins for hats, caps, bonnets, coats and shawls, in readiness; pointer, crayon and rubber on hand; bucket, cup, and broom, with an appropriate place for each. A wash bowl, towel, comb and looking-glass, are valuable appendages of the schoolroom. All this should be attended to before the first day of school. The teacher asks, "Is it my duty to provide such things when not found in the room?" It is not, nor should it be your duty to look after the condition of the school-house; but every experienced teacher knows the carelessness and negligence of school directors in regard to these things. You must attend to these things personally. Spare no pains to make your school a success; you can not afford to fail.

It is not good policy to inquire minutely after the character of your pupils or employers, when taking charge of a strange school. Such information gleaned from the gossip about in every neighborhood is far from being reliable, and if heeded will prejudice your minds against some families very unjustly. Leave yourself wholly untrammelled in this direction. You will find soon enough who are your mischievous pupils, and who are your meddlesome employers.

FARM LAND.

Special Correspondence to Randolph Journal.

October 1, 1866.
The Bellefontaine Railroad Company are removing the depot about fourteen feet from where it stood and are repairing it, so that it will now be more convenient for the company, the agent and business. This is a valuable improvement, and one that was long needed. The company is also giving permission to build ware houses near the switch, which they never would give before.

The Sabbath-school is flourishing finely. It is well attended and doing much good, especially in the way of morality and good behavior.

It is rumored that R. H. Grooms sold his store to D. & R. Thornburg, though no change has yet been made.

Robinson McIntire is still confined to his bed. He is laboring under chronic hepatitis.

The trade in all branches is much better since the rain ceased. The farmers report that corn will be seriously injured by the late rain.
Farmers are not yet done seeding; but if fair weather prevails, a large quantity of wheat will be sown yet this fall.
Miller & Gable will move their stock of drugs to their splendid new room in a few days.
